

Oath

This essay is my own work. Though I may have received advice from an instructor, a tutor, and /or a peer, no one wrote or edited any part of it for me. I have listed below all the readers who have given me advice about any revision. There is, then, no plagiarism. I have not copied or stolen professional or student work and tried to pretend that it is now my own when, in fact, it is not. I have not paraphrased any other source without citing that source. All sources are listed on my works cited page.
