6	Aaron A. Castillo	Friday, October 11, 2019	9:45am-10:45am	La Doctrina Social de la Iglesia y el plan de amor de Dios para la humanidad	El mandamiento de Jesús es claro: "Amarás a tu prójimo como a ti mismo" (Mc 1:28). Lo que suele no ser tan claro es lo que hay que hacer en concreto para vivir ese mandamiento ante la infinidad de problemas sociales que nos rodean. ¿Cómo actuar cristianamente en medio de tanta polarización y conflicto? ¿Qué podemos hacer para no dejar de ver los problemas sociales con mirada de auténticos discípulos misioneros? Durante más de 100 años, la Iglesia se ha dado a la tarea de responder a estas preguntas mediante el cuerpo de doctrina moral que conocemos como su Doctrina Social. Su riqueza y profundidad son incuestionables, pero a su vez parece ser poco conocida y menos aún aplicada en la sociedad. En esta presentación nos acercaremos al ministerio reciente de los Papas Benedicto XVI y Francisco para entender las condiciones que se tienen que cumplir para que los cristianos puedan usar la Doctrina Social para seguir transformando el mundo conforme a plan de amor de Dios.

9	Alyssa Trutter	Friday, October 11, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	Empowered to Evangelize	Anyone ever feel under-qualified to evangelize? Ok, so a few of us. During this roundtable discussion, we're going to unpack the fears we have about dialoguing with others about our faith. From there, we'll then put things in perspective. We'll take some time to be reminded that, while our role in the evangelization process is significant, the responsibility of moving and bringing the faith to others is ultimately a work of the Holy Spirit. God has given us everything we need to be co-laborers with Him. We're going to reconnect with the gifts and graces that He's already given us, and truly be sent out empowered to evangelize.

8	Andrea D. Chavez-Kopp	Friday, October 11, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Heart and Soul: Accompanying Youth in a Digital World	In ministry, we often hear that we must "meet people where they are," but at the same time we hear the frustrations about youth for being so connected to their digital devices. Instead of looking at technology as a barrier to reaching kids, we must embrace it as the powerful tool it is for communication, building relationships and enhancing our ministry practices. In this workshop, we will examine how to meet youth where they are in a digital space and share specific techniques to walk with them in their relationship with technology as well as empower them to become digital disciples.

8	Ann Gohsman	Friday, October 11, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Leading Their Learning: Student-led Conferences	In his Educational Leadership article, "When Students Lead Their Learning", Ron Berger describes the power of student-led conferences to build motivation, clarity, self-direction, and critical thinking in students. "When students must report to their families what they're learning - what skills and understandings they have, what areas still challenge them, and where they hope to get to - they must understand their own learning and progress...Education stops being something that is done to them and begins being something that they are leading." High-quality portfolios of student work, goal setting, and a culture of growth set the stage for this reflection and discussion. Have you tried student-led conferences yet? If so, how are they going? In this session we will identify the elements of effective student-led conferences and learn new ways to create high-quality portfolios.

6	Anne Kelley	Friday, October 11, 2019	9:45am-10:45am	Who's Doing the Talking? Managing the Engaged Classroom	"Conversations are powerful teachers. They engage, motivate and challenge. They help us build ideas, solve problems, and communicate our thoughts. They cause ideas to stick and grow in our minds. Conversations strengthen our comprehension of new ideas" (Zwiers & Crawford, 2011). Think about a time when your own thinking was clarified after talking it through with a peer. The same is true for our students – but we have to teach them how. Researchers, Zweirs and Crawford (2011), identified five core conversation skills that focus and deepen academic conversations: elaborate and clarify, support ideas with examples, build on and/or challenge ideas, paraphrase, and synthesize. In this workshop based on the book, Academic Conversations: Classroom Talk that Fosters Critical Thinking and Content Understandings, we will explore some lesson activities for developing these five core conversations skills and design effective conversation tasks.

3	Bernice Simmons, LPC, CCTP	Thursday, October 10, 2019	4:15pm-5:15pm	Our Story: As it Was in the Beginning, Is Now and how will it be. Trauma and the Brain.	In mass we revisit stories of Christian history. Knowing these stories helps us live a better Christian life now. Similarly, each person has stored emotional memories (their personal history) that effects how they respond to their present. The more we are aware of how our and other's histories effect us today the better able we will be to serve and receive others. Your actions and emotional responses today may be a window to your past. Traumas effect on the brain allows your past to influence your present and your present to heal your past. Join us to find out more about the effects of trauma on your brain and thus on your life. Knowing your stories is as important as Christians knowing our stories. This talk will aid anyone in any for of pastoral care.
13	Bernice Simmons, LPC, CCTP	Saturday, October 12, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Tools for Our Catholic Journey - Strengthening families' mental and spiritual health.	Mentally and Spiritually healthy families are vital for the good of the Church and society. This presentation connects mental health science and sound Catholic teachings and practices strengthen families in four primary areas. 1. Supporting parents as the primary educators of their children promotes security. 2. Connecting Mass and family meals builds positive, emotional memories providing a stronger foundation for members of The Church. 3. Understanding Developmental Morality helps parents raise healthy, faithful children. 4. Encouraging Forgiveness and Reconciliation at home and at Church promotes necessary healing for parents and children. All of these areas when formed with faith and sound mental health understanding builds stronger families. Strengthen your family and the families whom you minister to by increasing your understanding of the connection between your Catholic Faith and solid mental health.

11	Charles F. Finck M.S.	Saturday, October 12, 2019	9:45am-10:45am	Living With Forgiving: Why It's Important To Forgive	After a short review from the first presentation, we will discover In this second talk the reasons to forgive other than God's command. We will explore what it means to be in union with God, identifying with Jesus, restoring relationships and healing. We'll also discuss who to forgive and when, even when it seems impossible. "If we really want to LOVE we must learn how to FORGIVE." Mother Teresa.
13	Charles F. Finck M.S.	Saturday, October 12, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Living With Forgiving: The Prayer—Six Steps To Forgiving	"Everyone Thinks Forgiveness Is A Lovely Idea Until They Have Something To Forgive." C. S. Lewis. Short review from the previous two lessons. As Christians we are given the miraculous gift of prayer, a way to share our deepest most intimate selves and to have a relationship with God. Through prayer we can express our pain, confess our sins, and in love ask for God's help to forgive. This talk is organized around a "forgiving prayer," six biblical principles that I have used in my own life as well as for the thousands I have ministered to for the last 35 years. It is designed to be part of your life. Many have chosen to memorize it, print on their business cards, or attach it to the bathroom mirror, so it can be used daily. It is the source and inspiration for the book, "As We Forgive Those."

14	Dana Nygaard, MA, LPC	Saturday, October 12, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	Strong Marriages: The Foundation of Strong Catholic Families	This workshop is ideal for engaged and married couples, and those who minister to them. At Cana Marriage Retreats we believe the wisdom of Father Patrick Peyton who said, "The family that prays together stays together." At the heart of this presentation is why we need the Holy Spirit in our marriages and how to integrate prayer on a regular basis. A strong shared prayer life is integral to the perfection of a couple's love and to sustain their indissoluble unity. Through the sharing of clinical training, personal experience, wisdom gathered from Catholic teaching, and humor, participants will learn how to lovingly increase their spiritual intimacy - the opposite of spiritual isolation.

4	Dcn Arturo y Esperanza Monterrubio	Thursday, October 10, 2019	6:00pm-7:00pm	Espiritualidad Misionera	El Papa Francisco ha convocado este mes, como el Mes Misionero Extraordinario. En "El Gozo del Evangelio" # 10, al mismo nos dice: "La vida se acrecienta dándola y se debilita en el aislamiento y la comodidad." ¿Como puedo responder a esta llamada en mi propia vida y en mi parroquia? ¿Como sería cambiar de una pastoral de mera conservación a una pastoral decididamente misionera? Reflexionaremos acerca de esta Espiritualidad Misionera y el reto de vivirla.

6	Dcn. Matthew Halbach, Ph.D.	Friday, October 11, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	Mercy, Accompaniment, and Catechesis	Catechists, today, tend to focus their ministry on the teaching of Christian doctrine to young people. While this is important, catechesis is a much broader activity—one that is rooted in mercy and accompaniment. Mercy, as Pope Francis teaches, is the character of evangelization. We evangelize and catechize in order to help others encounter Christ, "the face of the Father's mercy" (Misericordia Vultus, no. 1). Pope Francis also teaches that accompaniment is how we ought to evangelize and, therefore, catechize. (Joy of the Gospel, nos. 169ff). So the question is: How do we accompany others as catechists and as Catholics? We will explore this question by looking at a few, key actions and attitudes of accompaniment from Pope Francis, which will be presented as easy, practical ways to refocus your ministry on building relationships with others and on mercy-making. What a refreshing change! Be ready for some story-telling and conversation.

3	Deacon Alfred Mitchell	Thursday, October 10, 2019	4:15pm-5:15pm	Homiletics and Storytelling	The authors of the Bible were excellent storytellers. They used stories in many ways; principally to describe the nature of the relationship between God and his people. Jesus, of course, was the master storyteller. His parables, a form of story, taught his disciples, and us, how to use story to make an important point. This workshop is designed to help the attendees use story in preaching, teaching and reaching out to others. It includes techniques for using stories to effectively communicate with all types of audiences, especially preachers, catechists and teachers.

11	Diana Dudoit Raiche, PhD	Saturday, October 12, 2019	9:45am-10:45am	Liturgical Catechesis: An Essential Method in Catechesis	Liturgical Catechesis: This ancient form of catechesis, highlighted in the Catechism of the Catholic Church, given renewed importance in the General Directory for Catechesis and the National Directory for Catechesis, is an essential element in catechesis and informs a deeper understanding of mystagogical catechesis. This session situates liturgical catechesis within the context of other catechetical forms and provides a road map for implementing liturgical catechesis as a method to be used in preparation for the sacraments of initiation, whether administered according to the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults or as discreet, separate celebrations as in First Eucharist or Confirmation.
2	Dr. Ansel Augustine	Thursday, October 10, 2019	2:45pm-3:45pm	Walking Together In Faith	We as a church are called to be ONE body of Christ, yet we are still divided. In this session we will look at the root causes and solutions to this issue. Come ready to be challenged and renewed as a people of faith.

8	Dr. David Anders	Friday, October 11, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Sharing the Gospel in the Catholic Church	Pope Francis has urged Catholics to make the Kerygma central to all the evangelizing activity in the Church. But what is the Kerygma and how do you share it? In this talk, I reflect on the mystery of Christ's life, death, and resurrection. Drawing on Scripture and the tradition of the Church, I look at fundamental questions about why the son of God became a man, why Christ died and rose again, and what difference that should make to my life. I share some stories of those who have encountered new life in this transforming message and make some suggestions about how to pass it on.
11	Dr. David Anders	Saturday, October 12, 2019	9:45am-10:45am	"Called to Communion:" Reaching non-Catholics with the Hope that is in Us.	All people are called to communion with Christ, a communion of life, charity and truth through the Church. Unfortunately, many do not know how to encounter Christ through the ministry of his church, including many who have left the Church. An important part of ministry to non-Catholics and fallen away Catholics is to give reasons to reconsider the faith and to answer common objections. But when new Catholics arrive or old Catholics return, they need to be welcomed and accompanied with pastoral concern. In this talk, I share some of my experiences in the evangelistic ministry of Catholic radio and the catechetical work of a Catholic diocese. I will discuss some of the challenges facing parish and diocesan ministers in receiving those converts and reverts and I will suggest some principles and strategies.
8	Dr. Jo Ann Paradise	Friday, October 11, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Unlocking the Religious Imagination: Facilitating that Faith Formation of Adolescents	This workshop will focus on the need of junior high students to be actively engaged in reflection upon the Catholic life. Through exploring the world of religious imagination we will discover creative methodologies that help form the mind and heart of the a disciple
13	Dr. Jo Ann Paradise	Saturday, October 12, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Forming a Spiritual Child in a Secular World	How can parents and religious educators engage a child's religious imagination in a way that enables them to develop as spiritual people in a world that is often toxic to spirituality? We will first explore what is a Catholic Spirituality and then discuss practical ideas for making room for the Spirit in both family life and classroom experiences.
14	Dr. Jo Ann Paradise	Saturday, October 12, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	Effective Family Catechesis Is More Than One Gathering	The question is no longer, "Should we do family catechesis?" The question is now. "What are the necessary elements of effective family catechesis?" We will explore the concept of integrated family catechesis that is systematic and intentional as it evangelizes, equips, supports and affirms parents. Dr Jo Ann Paradise will inspire you to meet your parents where they are and awaken in them the "holy longing" to live in relationship with God and his people

6	Dr. Kelly Bentel	Friday, October 11, 2019	9:45am-10:45am	Identification and Intervention for Children and Adolescents Experiencing Anxiety and Stress	Today children are faced with increased pressures, including increased screen time, social media, and over-scheduling, which are impacting their daily lives. Anxiety and stress in children can present in numerous ways, including behavioral problems. This presentation will focus on recognizing the signs of stress and anxiety in children, as well as provide strategies to assist these children in the classroom.
9	Dr. Theodore J. Whapham	Friday, October 11, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	Anxiety & Depression in Family & the Community	Round table discussion of the growing impact of anxiety and other mental health issues as they affect children and families in our schools and parishes. Come join the conversation as we seek to better understand and respond to this developing challenge.
3	Elizabeth Madeo	Thursday, October 10, 2019	4:15pm-5:15pm	Is your Joy-fuel tank full?	We are first joy-full disciples...then joy-filled ministers. How can our joy overflow into our parish programs? What blesses your heart? What makes your soul smile? When do you feel your best? We must not only be aware of what brings us joy, but take the time to nurture those things in our every day life. That joy will lead to a joy-full discipleship and we must be rooted in discipleship before we reach out in ministry. Let us embrace the grace and celebrate the joy of discipleship!
6	Elizabeth Madeo	Friday, October 11, 2019	9:45am-10:45am	Calling all WOMEN OF FAITH!	What blesses your heart? What makes your soul smile? When do you feel your best? We must not only be aware of what brings us joy, but take the time to nurture those things in our every day life. Sometimes that means having some fun, sometimes that means saying no, sometimes that means stepping back and taking a look at the things that don't bring us joy. Our world promises us joy in many temporary ways but we know that true joy only come from God. Following Jesus is our joy, our life and our stronghold. Let us embrace the grace and celebrate the joy of discipleship as women of faith!

This talk will renew our own appreciation for the sacramental life of the Church and offer ways in which we can instill in the future generations of Catholics with a fervent love of the seven sacraments.
10	Fatima Monterrubio Cruess	Friday, October 11, 2019	4:30pm-5:30pm	"La Juventud" No Existe: Un Examen de la Realidad Juvenil de los Latinos en los Estados Unidos	"La juventud no es algo que se pueda analizar en abstracto. En realidad, 'la juventud' no existe, existen los jóvenes con sus vidas concretas" (Christus Vivit #71). Esto es particularmente evidente en la diversidad de la juventud en los Estados Unidos—una diversidad de país de origen, estatus legal, e idioma. Todos estos elementos describen la realidad concreta que el Papa Francisco nos reta a considerar en nuestro ministerio a los jóvenes. Exploraremos esta realidad desde la perspectiva de una joven latina basada en su experiencia personal y su ministerio con adolescentes.
14	Fatima Monterrubio Cruess	Saturday, October 12, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	Momentos Familiares: Hilos Que Tejen el Manto de la Santidad	"Los momentos profundos y ordinarios de la vida diaria... todos son hilos que tejen el manto de la santidad" (Sigan el Camino del Amor). Exploraremos este mensaje pastoral de los Obispos Católicos de los E. U. a la familia y ofreceremos algunas prácticas para responder a la llamada de ser iglesia doméstica desde la perspectiva de nuestra vida familiar como papás (y abuelos) e hija.

2	Fr. Joshua J. Whitfield	Thursday, October 10, 2019	2:45pm-3:45pm	The Way of the Listener: 10 Steps for Listening to Homilies (even bad ones!)	How can ministry leaders, laity, and clergy help the Church improve preaching? Believe it or not, it's not just the preachers' responsibility; it's everyone's responsibility. Spiritually speaking, the quality of preaching depends as much on listeners as it does on speakers. Thus, for lay leaders and catechists, how we listen to homilies (and how we help others listen) is an important part of evangelism and parish ministry. So, how should we listen to homilies? How do homilies fit within the spiritual life? How do we listen to both good homilies and bad homilies and still grow spiritually? Fr. Joshua, author of The Crisis of Bad Preaching, offers The Way of the Listener: 10 Steps for Listening to Homilies (even bad ones!) to help those listening to homilies make the best of it! In preaching God speaks, so we'd better listen! So how can we keep from zoning out? How can we focus? How can we turn listening to homilies into a spirituality of sanctification and growth? If you thought the homily was time to take a nap, think again! Learn how to listen to homilies the right way!

10	Fr. Rafael Martin Ramirez Gonzalez	Friday, October 11, 2019	4:30pm-5:30pm	La Sagrada Familia en el Antiguo Testamento	Aunque la sagrada familia de Nazaret no aparece estrictamente sino has los albores del Nuevo Testamento, sus raíces, sin embargo, vienen de lejos. En esta conferencia consideraremos el contexto histórico, cultural y teológico que la preparó, así como los textos principales del Antiguo Testamento que la preanunciaron. Esto, a su vez, nos ayudará a comprender mejor de qué manera la sagrada familia es un modelo para nuestras familias.

6	Gerardo Salazar	Friday, October 11, 2019	9:45am-10:45am	El sano humor en la catequesis: ¡el poder de la alegría!	La Escritura nos recuerda una y otra vez que como cristianos debemos de estar siempre alegres. ¿Por qué los catequizandos y los receptores se aburren durante una sesión? El poder sanador y transformador del buen humor puede permitir la disposición adecuada en la persona para recibir el mensaje con agrado. Deleitarse con una sabrosa risa y una abierta carcajada puede ser la diferencia en nuestro ministerio. Este curso te beneficiará al presentarte la manera amena como la catequesis requiere del sano humor como una herramienta útil para poder transmitir nuestra enseñanza católica.
14	Gerardo Salazar	Saturday, October 12, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	¡Auxilio! Han cambiado al "párroco": guía para el líderes y catequistas	El cambio de un párroco en una iglesia para la feligresía, los líderes y catequistas, puede ser un momento de tensión e incertidumbre. La comunidad parroquial puede experimentar transiciones que requieren de un discernimiento y la disponibilidad personal/colectiva para aceptar y mejorar a partir del cambio pastoral. En este taller aprenderás de manera concreta a colaborar en conjunto con tu ministerio y el nuevo liderazgo parroquial a manera de prepararse para el cambio que debe beneficiar a todos.
12	Haley Stewart	Saturday, October 12, 2019	11:15am-12:15pm	Building Up the Domestic Church	We know that the faith of our Catholic families is essential to the life of the Church, but what are practical ways we can strengthen that faith? By centering life in the home as a "school of love" and observing the rhythms of the liturgical year in the domestic church, the family can grow in holiness. Holy families shine a light outward into the culture by nurturing hospitality and community. The Stewart family decided to nurture family life in a radical way by selling their house, getting rid of most of their possessions, and living for a year on a working farm. During this life-changing experience, they discovered that living counter to the "throwaway" culture and orienting their lives toward the Gospel strengthened their family and faith life. But building strong family life isn't just for people who can move to a farm! As they've transitioned back to life in the city, they've brought the lessons they learned during their radical year with them to share with you.
6	J.Lee Whittington	Friday, October 11, 2019	9:45am-10:45am	Reframing Work as Worship and Witness	Work now dominates our lives as the source for earning a living, expressing our individuality, and serving as the primary source of social support. Although work plays a central role in our lives, it is important to keep work a proper perspective. In this presentation I discuss work from a biblical perspective and argue for an integrated faith that informs the way we view work in the context of our entire life. Drawing on key passages from both the Old and New Testaments, I argue that work is a gift from God. As such work has intrinsic value and has been designed to provide meaning and purpose, while also addressing the instrumental needs for earning a living and supporting our families. By design, work is intended to be a primary source for meaningfulness. The inherent meaningfulness of work is further enhanced when work is reframed as an act of worship.
6	Jacquelyn Smith	Friday, October 11, 2019	9:45am-10:45am	Assumption of Chastity: Vocation and Dating in Today's Culture	The social media driven, instant culture has our young people longing for authentic relationships. We are a people called to live the virtuous life in community with others. The assumption of chastity and mindfulness of vocation should be a part of the decision to date. When should exclusivity enter your dating life? Is God invited to the party? How can you reveal yourself to another without revealing too much? Does modesty matter? What forms of communication lead to authentic relationships? The Church in her wisdom offers guidance in these matters. Learn ways to help your young people set personal boundaries and create guidelines for successful dating the way God intended.

5	Jake Samour	Thursday, October 10, 2019	7:15pm-8:15pm	Un Encuentro con Jesús en Nuestro Hogar - La Nueva Evangelización por medio de la Iglesia Doméstica	"Familia se lo que eres" nos animaba San Juan Pablo II en Familiaris Consortio. La familia tiene como don y tarea, la de formar a los hijos. Pero usualmente para los padres esto significa, contando con la parroquia y la escuela, ser colaboradores y co-responsables de la educación y formación de los niños. Tal vez nunca lo hayamos pensado de esta manera, pero los niños por ser niños tienen un aspecto catequético que es indispensable para sus papás. Si nosotros como papás supieramos que los hijos nos educan y forman a ser los papás que debemos de ser. Esta presentación ayudará a cambiar la perspectiva formadora del hogar y veremos como de esta manera la familia llega a ser plenamente una comunidad de amor, de vida y de fe. Como el hogar se convierte en el lugar privilegiado donde nos amamos, nos ponemos al servicio de todos y en el proceso nos evangelizamos los unos a los otros. [3]
7	Jake Samour	Friday, October 11, 2019	11:15am-12:15pm	"Varón y mujer los creó": La Teología del Cuerpo y La Cuestión del Gender	Examinaremos el nuevo documento publicado por la Congregación para la Educación Católica, titulado "Varón y Mujer los creó". Utilizando la Teología del Cuerpo de San Juan Pablo II, la cual lleva el mismo título, esta presentación ofrecerá reflexiones que puedan orientar y apoyar a cuantos están comprometidos con la educación de las nuevas generaciones a abordar metódicamente las cuestiones más debatidas sobre la sexualidad humana, a la luz de la vocación al amor a la cual toda persona es llamada.
12	Jake Samour	Saturday, October 12, 2019	11:15am-12:15pm	Parejas Caminando juntas en la Fe para realizar su Misión	Cada pareja casada debe reconocer sus dones propios para servir en su comunidad. El amor que comparten los esposos es puesto al servicio de su matrimonio, de sus niños y de la comunidad en general. Durante esta presentación veremos prioridades claves a las cuales cada matrimonio está llamado a vivir y experimentar. También, examinaremos como parejas casadas pueden ayudar a fortalecer a otros matrimonios al acompañarlos y caminar juntos en la Fe. Ciertamente, la misión de cada pareja es antes que nada la de formar una comunión de vida y amor dentro de su propia familia pero también esta misión incluye el ser mandado a dar testimonio a otros. 10	Jayne Ragasa Mondoy	Friday, October 11, 2019	4:30pm-5:30pm	"Take Five": Basic Principles for Cultivating Catechists	Cultivating catechists takes so much more than holding a series of meetings throughout the year! It is an act of stewardship, a way of being expressed through a set of guiding principles that speak to mission, parameters, empowerment, recognition and engagement. Let's "Take Five" together.
13	Jayne Ragasa Mondoy	Saturday, October 12, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	What's Your Story? Bridging Cultural Wisdom and Catechesis through Storytelling	Jesus told parables to connect the content of His message to the lived experience of his disciples in a very personal way. Through applied storytelling and catechesis, we too can help to connect beloved stories, especially ones that convey essential cultural values and traditions, to Jesus himself in Sacred Scripture and Tradition.
1	Jeff Cavins	Thursday, October 10, 2019	1:15pm-2:15pm	The Great Adventure Bible in One Day	Join founding host of EWTN's "Life on the Rock" show and best-selling Catholic author Jeff Cavins as he walks Catholics through the entire Bible in a day using the system that revolutionized the Catholic world, The Great Adventure Bible Timeline. Jeff's presentation will inspire you to move beyond believing toward the very core of the gospel—to share it. Jeff will spell out the basic seven points to the proclamation of the gospel and show you how easy it can be to spread God's word to those around us. With the confirmation of the Holy Spirit over the words you proclaim about Jesus Christ, amazing things can happen. You will be challenged to become an activated disciple and take your faith to the next level.

3	John E. Barone	Thursday, October 10, 2019	4:15pm-5:15pm	Including Diverse Learners Affirms Their Entire Family's Catholic Identity	Most people are aware of the sobering trend of the rising disaffiliation of young adults, compounded by the realities of societal pressure and church crisis. Yet there is hope. Studies show that, at key moments of return (in particular in Lent) disconnected young adults re-engage in the life of the Church for a brief time. How can families and church leaders use those critical moments and turn them into milestones on the road towards strengthening missionary discipleship? Using insights from Pope Francis' "Christus Vivit" and the U.S. bishops' work with young people, this session will explore the phenomenon of moments of return, and begin conversation about creative solutions and ideas for responding with the joy of the Gospel.
10	John E. Barone	Friday, October 11, 2019	4:30pm-5:30pm	Including Diverse Learners Affirms Their Entire Family's Catholic Identity	We are all called to be in community; with Jesus Christ and one another. God's vision of inclusion calls us to be Christ to others; especially to individuals who have greater needs. Having a sense of "belonging" in a faith community is foundational to our Catholic identity. When we include diverse learners in the full life of the Church we affirm their entire family's Catholic identity. This roundtable discussion is for everyone wanting to learn best practices that will transform their parish to become more accessible; physically, attitudinally, catechetically. Come learn strategies and techniques to transform your parish ministries, to strengthen the Catholic identity of your parishioners and help ensure that all may be one in the Body of Christ.

8	Maureen P. Provencher	Friday, October 11, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Igniting the Hearts of a New Generation: Engaging and Accompanying Younger Disciples!	Children, today, think differently. Their interests and needs vary. They learn in a variety of different ways. Their attention spans are short and their energy levels are more than we can keep up with! And, their desire to know, love, and serve God is real and alive! They've evolved and so must our ways of sharing, teaching, and walking the journey of faith, together - with them and with their families! If you have the privilege of ministering with children and their families, then this workshop is for you. Together, we'll delve more deeply into the mystery of understanding and embracing this generation and their gift to us. Then, we'll look to effective approaches that are practical, fun, inviting, and achievable, to effectively engage them and nurture their hearts in faith and love.

8	Michael Faggella-Luby, PhD	Friday, October 11, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	All Are Welcome: Including and Serving Students with Disabilities in our Catholic Schools	Catholic school personnel recognize that many of their students, including students with disabilities, need and benefit from inclusive educational practices. This session will provide highlights from a new special issue of the Journal of Catholic Education on inclusion in Catholic Schools. Specifically, we will share five myths about inclusion, clarify key terms and laws, and highlights from a national survey of inclusion in Catholic schools as context for serving the academically diverse needs of students in our classrooms. Participants will receive (a) frameworks for academic and behavior supports that align building and classroom practice by considering multiple-tiers of service delivery, (b) examples and resources on evidence-based practices targeted to meet the unique needs of children, and (c) practical tips for meaningful inclusion in Catholic Schools. This session will be helpful to individuals supporting struggling learners and peers with disabilities in Catholic schools.

8	Mike Hopper, MS, ATC	Friday, October 11, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Head Games: Returning to the Classroom After Concussion	The recognition and management of concussions is constantly evolving and has increased drastically over the last several years. An injury that was long viewed as only keeping a child out of athletic participation has crossed over into the academic world as well. Most kids are able to recover from a concussion in a relatively short period of time, while others may last significantly longer. This session will help teachers to better collaborate with the school's counselors and involved medical staff for a successful return to the classroom for a student after suffering a concussion. The speaker has significant real-world experience managing concussions within the school helping to manage an average of 35 concussions per school year often from the initial injury through complete return to academics and return to athletics.

7	Monica Oppermann	Friday, October 11, 2019	11:15am-12:15pm	El Corazón del Discípulo: su formación en el seno de la familia y a lo largo de la vida.	El corazón del discípulo se forma dentro del contexto de una relación vivida con Dios. Esta formación inicia en seno de la familia y continúa a lo largo de la vida. Escritores católicos han identificado etapas de conversión que van profundizando gradualmente la relación personal con Dios, culminando en una decisión de seguir intencionalmente a Jesucristo. La conversión es obra del Espíritu Santo, pero tanto en la familia como en el ministerio parroquial podemos ayudar al caminar de otra persona. En este taller, exploraremos herramientas para descubrir esas etapas de conversión en la propia vida, e identificar la mejor manera de acompañar a aquellos que servimos a lo largo de su propia conversión y camino de fe.
12	Monica Oppermann	Saturday, October 12, 2019	11:15am-12:15pm	La Familia: Principal Agente de Evangelización	A veces solo nos preocupamos de cómo la Iglesia puede servir a la familia; pero es una realidad que las familias también están llamadas a servir, a proveer ministerio y a dar testimonio. La familia es un espejo de la imagen de Dios como una comunión de personas hechas para relacionarse: el esposo, la esposa y los hijos son una reflexión de la Trinidad. La identidad de la familia es su misión: ser una célula esencial de la sociedad, ser la iglesia doméstica y ser un agente clave de evangelización. En este taller reflexionaremos sobre esta realidad y exploraremos algunas herramientas para ser una familia evangelizadora y una parroquia orientada en la familia. Las familias y parroquias evangelizadoras juegan un papel fundamental en la labor misionera de la Iglesia de hoy.

En poco tiempo veremos cómo lo que nosotros conocimos como métodos de estudio y comunicación estarán totalmente en desuso y se habrá abierto una Nueva era. Esto que en si es maravilloso presenta serios peligros en el modo de relacionarnos entre nosotros y de convivir. Podemos quedar atrapados en el CIBER ESPACIO y perder nuestra esencia humana, social y familiar. El evangelio y la evangelización en la familia son y deben ser el antídoto a todo esto y permitir así un sano desarrollo de la tecnología en la sociedad y la familia. Nuestro tema toca este interesante tema presentando sus peligros, pero sobre todo los grandes retos que enfrentamos y la forma de solucionarlos con una correcta evangelización de nuestra familia.
2	Paul Jarzembowski	Thursday, October 10, 2019	2:45pm-3:45pm	Finding Hope in the Ashes: A New Way to Strengthen Outreach to Young Adults	Most people are aware of the sobering trend of the rising disaffiliation of young adults, compounded by the realities of societal pressure and church crisis. Yet there is hope. Studies show that, at key moments of return (in particular in Lent) disconnected young adults re-engage in the life of the Church for a brief time. How can families and church leaders use those critical moments and turn them into milestones on the road towards strengthening missionary discipleship? Using insights from Pope Francis' "Christus Vivit" and the U.S. bishops' work with young people, this session will explore the phenomenon of moments of return, and begin conversation about creative solutions and ideas for responding with the joy of the Gospel.

9	Paul Jarzembowski	Friday, October 11, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	Strengthening Ministry with Youth and Young Adults: Implementing Pope Francis' "Christus Vivit"	How will we respond to and implement the vision for ministry laid out in Pope Francis' most recent post-synodal apostolic exhortation, "Christus Vivit"? This landmark letter, focused on and addressed to young people around the world (and "to the entire people of God"), offers the Church a new way forward in encountering, accompanying, and journeying with youth and young adults. Coming at a time when young people are increasingly disaffiliating from the practice of the faith, "Christus Vivit" (which followed a three-year Synod process of global discernment and dialogue) offers something for people of all generations: families, ministry leaders, pastors, youth, young adults, and active Catholics in the pews - and gives us direction for our work with and pastoral care for young people. Now it's up to us to take the next step.

8	Rev. Michael Baynham	Friday, October 11, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Entering the Darkness: Engaging Suffering as a Keystone of Effective Youth Ministry	Either out of ignorance for the real problems that youth face, or out of a desire to make youth ministry a refuge from the darkness of our world, we often look to keep our youth ministry programs light and cheerful. We fill our youth nights with fun games and light, uplifting talks, always keeping a smile on our face. However, youth are no strangers to suffering. Anxiety, depression, drug and alcohol abuse, and the death of loved ones are but a few of the ways many of our youth are encountering the darkness of this world. Unless we are willing to be vulnerable and uncomfortable ourselves and engage youth in their suffering, the joy of the Gospel will never be able to bring light into the darkness of their lives.

Fragomeni, PhD	Saturday, October 12, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	To Die Before You Die: The Promise of Peace the World Cannot Give	There is a mystical saying: Die before you die, so that when you die there is not much left of you to die - if this proverb baffles you or blesses you, come and see why. This workshop engages the heart to imagine what life can be now and eternally, if we heed this wisdom: a grace of Christ.
12	Richard (Rick) Lopez DMA	Saturday, October 12, 2019	11:15am-12:15pm	El Continuo Llamado a la Hospitalidad en Medio de la Diversidad: Unidad en la Liturgia	La presencia de tanta gente de tantas culturas y religiones diferentes en tantas partes diferentes de los Estados Unidos nos ha desafiado a una profunda conversión para que podamos llegar a ser verdaderamente un sacramento de la unidad. Rechazamos la postura anti-inmigrante que se ha hecho popular en diferentes partes de nuestro país, el nativismo, el etnocentrismo y el racismo que continúan reafirmandose en nuestra comunidad. Aunque es un desafío, nuestras parroquias deben abrazar tal diversidad. No solo refleja nuestra realidad social, sino que representa el medio en el que Cristo nos llama a proclamar el Evangelio. Una manera básica en que los católicos podemos responder a este desafío es en el contexto de la liturgia que es la "fuente y cumbre" de nuestra vida común en Cristo.
14	Richard (Rick) Lopez DMA	Saturday, October 12, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	The Continual Call for Hospitality Amid Diversity: Unity Through the Liturgy	The presence of so many people of so many different cultures and religions in so many different parts of the United States has challenged us to a profound conversion so that we can become truly a sacrament of unity. We reject the anti-immigrant stance that has become popular in different parts of the country, and the nativism ethnocentricity, and racism that continue to reassert themselves in our community. Though a challenge, our parishes should embrace such diversity. It not only reflects our social reality, it represents the milieu which Christ calls us to proclaim the Gospel. A basic way we Catholics can respond to this challenge is in the context of the liturgy which is the "source and summit" of our common life in Christ.

13	Robert J. McCarty, D.Min.	Saturday, October 12, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	Engaging Young People in God Talk!	According to the research, a factor leading to disaffiliation is the lack of opportunity to talk about faith issues! This session will provide participants with practical skills on how to use symbols, analogy, and metaphors in engaging young people in God talk. These skills are applicable to home, school, parish classes, youth ministry settings, and in our conversations. Further, this session will identify spiritual practices, faith skills, and rituals that enable young people to "talk" about God and faith and to live out their discipleship. Participants will also consider the importance of creating space for deep conversations for young people so that questions and doubts can be verbalized. Let's talk about young people and about God!

14	Robert J. McCarty, D.Min.	Saturday, October 12, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	Going, Going, Gone: Now What?	In their study, Going, Going, Gone: The Dynamics of Disaffiliation in Young Catholics , Saint Mary's Press provides extensive research on young Catholics who have left the Church, identifying the underlying dynamics that lead to disaffiliation. Now we need to identify the practical pastoral responses and strategies that can enhance affiliation and engagement with the faith community and examine implications for parish and school life, vocational discernment, liturgy, and pastoral ministry. Young people are crafting a religious identity in new ways, so how do we introduce young people to Catholicism as a comprehensive way of living authentically today? Come ready to enter into candid, honest, and realistic discussions, both as ministry leaders and as caring individuals, as together we explore what it means to accompany young people on their spiritual journeys.
8	Roy Petitfils	Friday, October 11, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	The Art of Accompanying Young People	The presence of disability as we age can bring deeper challenges for ourselves and our loved ones, but it can also bring more profound faith and opportunities for grace, fellowship, and Christian witness. Families and parishes that embrace their own and others' aging in tangible ways truly reflect God's love and serve as examples for others in society to follow. This workshop will offer ways to understand aging and disability through the lens of Catholic faith as well as practical suggestions for communication, balancing personal needs with those of others, and creative accommodations within a family or parish community.
13	Roy Petitfils	Saturday, October 12, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	"The Question Behind the Question": Tools Needed to Identify and Address the Real Fears, Questions, Hopes and Dreams of Today's Youth	Things aren't always as they appear, is especially true in working with young people. Often the questions they ask us, as masking much deeper, meaningful and relevant questions that they have not identified of have the language or ego strength to articulate. The surface questions, like "Why does the Church hate gay people" goes much deeper than this assuming, condemning, leading questions first appears. If we can hold young people lovingly in their questions, and use a few tools to probe even deeper they will let us into their hearts exposing the real question, the real fear or the real hope.
8	Sean J. Smith	Friday, October 11, 2019	1:30pm-2:30pm	All Are Welcome: Including and Serving Students with Disabilities in our Catholic Schools	Catholic school personnel recognize that many of their students, including students with disabilities, need and benefit from inclusive educational practices. This session will provide highlights from a new special issue of the Journal of Catholic Education on inclusion in Catholic Schools. Specifically, we will share five myths about inclusion, clarify key terms and laws, and highlights from a national survey of inclusion in Catholic schools as context for serving the academically diverse needs of students in our classrooms. Participants will receive (a) frameworks for academic and behavior supports that align building and classroom practice by considering multiple-tiers of service delivery, (b) examples and resources on evidence-based practices targeted to meet the unique needs of children, and (c) practical tips for meaningful inclusion in Catholic Schools. This session will be helpful to individuals supporting struggling learners and peers with disabilities in Catholic schools.

2	Victoria Tanco	Thursday, October 10, 2019	2:45pm-3:45pm	Religious but not spiritual: When routine leaves you wanting more	We have heard people describe themselves as "spiritual, but not religious". Sometimes, those of us that regularly go to church, receive the sacraments, and even pray daily, can find ourselves feeling like something is missing. We go through the motions, and might even think we are "religious, but not spiritual". Spirituality is that conscious and intimate relationship with God--the indwelling of the Spirit that gives deeper meaning to everyday life, integrates our interior with our exterior, blending our sense of individuality with our belonging in a community.
12	Victoria Tanco	Saturday, October 12, 2019	11:15am-12:15pm	Religioso pero no espiritual: Cuando la rutina te deja con ganas de más.	Hemos escuchado que algunos se describen a sí mismos como "espirituales pero no religiosos". A veces, aquellos de nosotros que asistimos regularmente a la misa, recibimos los sacramentos e incluso rezamos a diario, podemos sentir que nos falta algo. Pasamos por los movimientos, y hasta podríamos pensar que somos "religiosos, pero no espirituales". La espiritualidad es esa relación consciente e íntima con Dios: la morada del Espíritu que da un significado más profundo a la vida cotidiana, integra nuestro interior con nuestro exterior, combinando nuestro sentido de individualidad con nuestra pertenencia en una comunidad.
14	Vince Lujan	Saturday, October 12, 2019	3:00pm-4:00pm	Modern Music Mission: How to choose it, use it and not lose it	You've tried everything... or have you? We'll talk about strategies that will empower you, parents, youth volunteers and leaders and others to support more contemporary music offerings. Learn how scripture informs and supports how and why we use our musical gifts in worship. We'll share resources and technology that will help with musicianship, music theory, basic ear training, and chart reading. You'll learn methods and practices for various liturgies using modern instrument settings and styles as well as how to use your gifts beyond the confines of the church building.
